LAGGING — When it comes to making scrap out of automobiles, California always leads the nation. Every holiday casualty list, by states, finds California on the top. But when it comes to turning in the scrap, California drops behind. To date, the amount of scrap metal turned in to help fight the Axis amounts to 74 pounds for every man, woman and child in the 48 states and the District of Columbia. Vermont leads the list with 155.4 pounds per capita. But out here, the Bear state is rather bare. Our average is only 65.1 pounds per person. If we don't step up, there won't be any ammunition to pass and perhaps we won't even be able to praise the Lord.

WARNING — Remember that two-alarm extra-hour-of-sleep program I told you about last week? I forgot to add a warning — DON'T forget to reset the alarm. I did the other day and didn't wake up until 9:43, Pacific time in the war time . . . It'll be weeks before the incident is filed away — for future reference . . . In these days of rubber difficulties, breaking glass on the highways should be a felony. The bottle-buster is almost as low as a pet-poisoner or Hitler. In fact, it's a photo finish for place . . . Statistics say most of the home accidents happen in the kitchen. Many a dyspeptic husband will agree to this.

FAITH — It was only two days after Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker told newspapermen that she didn't believe her famous husband was dead. "He's too old a hand at flying for that." She said — that he was found . . . If they hadn't rationed brains at Washington a few years back, we wouldn't have to be rationing so many other things today . . . Up in San Bernardino when the army moved in and started building a vast base, they got elegant and called it either the "air DAY-po" or the "air DEpo" (short 'e') However the dictionary gives the good old-fashioned "DEEpO" preference. The other two sound like sticking out the little finger while manipulating a cup of coffee looks.

COMPENSATIONS — You can't win. Uncle Sam some time ago ordered a cut in the manufacture of flannels for civilian use and converted the factories to war uses. Then he promulgated an order rationing the fuel oil used in heating homes. As a result, he has had to order many textile mills to reconvert to flannel production because of the increase demand for flannel nighties and pajamas so that people can keep warm in colder homes . . . This law of compensation works both ways, however. Because of the OPA order that the number of the "use" tax stamp (that red windshield sticker that cost you five bucks last July) must be on the back of all gasoline coupons before the gas station man will turn on the pump, many motorists who had failed to buy, are now flooding post-offices with their $5 bills. They had thought they could get by before.

EXPLAINED — "What do you mean, 'walk to the corner grocery, short trips give you only two miles to the gallon?'" asks a skeptical villager. Well, mister, here's what engineers for the Auto club discovered in tests: Starting on a cold motor, the first tenth of a mile used gasoline

Be Extra Careful Urge Fire Chief, Force Is Depleted

Fire prevention is now more than just a haphazard once-a-year observance. It is a patriotic duty, said Fire Chief Bill Leoniosi this week in urging Palm Springs residents to use extra care to prevent fires.

"Watch your premises and your house," he urged. "Don't let rubbish, piles of paper, oily rags accumulate. Be careful with matches, cigarettes, cigars, pipes. Just pretend it's fire prevention week every week."

The chief declared that the war was making great inroads into his staff. Next week approximately six more members of the volunteer force will be called into service. One paid man left last week.

"And we can't find the men to replace them," he said. "It's a serious situation and everybody should help. The way Palm Springs residents can help the most is to prevent fires. Watch all of the angles. Be extra careful and we'll get by."

Observers Given Aid

Things Looking Up For Sky Gazers

Palm Springs is doing its bit for the comfort of those unselfish volunteers who man the local aircraft warning service, Culver Nichols, chief observer for the local post, said Tuesday.

He listed the following recent donations to the convenience of the local observers:

Electric heater, presented by Mayor Frank V. Shannon. Typifying the spirit of the sky watchers, it has three speeds forward but no reverse.

WARMER FOOTING

Warmer footing for watchers. This was the work of Tel Bourbons who oiled the board walk and laid heavy roof paper, the materials donated by the Dill Lumber company.

Relief to tired eyes — the work of Clinton Bauer, painter, who killed the glare of the sun's rays on white walls by laying on a coat of restful green. Eyestrain stopped and the observers are now able to scan the skies in comfort.

ALL SNUGGLED UP

Overcoats, a pair of them, coupled to Mayor Shannon's heater, defy the chilly nights. The overcoats were the donation of Harry Harper, editor of the Riverside News who is now in the army.

"The village has been good to the observers. There's only one thing now needed and that is coffee, hot coffee to warm them up during the long night watches and to sharpen their faculties," said Chief Observer Nichols.

Large Contingent Called to Leave For Army Service

Palm Springs has been losing prominent young business men to the army rapidly in the past few weeks and another large contingent is scheduled to leave for induction Tuesday.

Last week 87 left the draft board headquarters at Indio for Los Angeles. Among those called were Curtis Argus Palmer and John Scott.

Among those called for next Tuesday's induction are Leo Paquette, Harold Barkow, Thomas Kieley and William Prendergast. Harold K. Horner, D. D. Goff, Harry G. Rocks, Ralph A. Palmer and Lloyd B. Gauff. More, whose names have not been learned, will be included in the trip to Los Angeles.

Granddaughter of General Torney, For Whom Hospital Named, Now Living Here

Although she had never made her home here before, it was like coming to the old hearthstone for Mrs. Harris, wife of Major Albert Harris, when she came here with their two daughters, to live while her husband, who is with an armored division, is stationed at the desert training area near here.

For her grandfather, was the

Brig. Gen. George Henry Torney

for whom the Torney General

Hospital here, is named.

Gen. Torney was her mother's father and Palm Springs therefore holds an especial interest for her.

GREAT GRAND DAUGHTERS

The oldest of the two daughters of Major and Mrs. Harris bears

the distinguished medical officer's name — Maizie Torney Ryan

Harris. She is a pupil at the

Frances S. Stevens school. A younger daughter is Kress Ryan

Harris. They are great-granddaughters of the famous surgeon.

Before coming to Palm Springs to make their home, Mrs. Harris and her two daughters lived in Redlands.

Major Harris was stationed at Fort Smith, Arkansas, before coming to the desert training area.

REMEMBER GENERAL

Gen. Torney, for whom the big army hospital here is named, died in 1913, but Mrs. Harris remembers him well although she was but a little child then.

He gained fame for his work in typhoid immunization and for control of beri-beri. He also advocated the measures which resulted in reorganization of the army dental corps and army nurses.

The village has been good to the observers. There's only one thing now needed and that is coffee, hot coffee to warm them up during the long night watches and to sharpen their faculties."

said Chief Observer Nichols.

Jack Benny Will Bring Gang Here For Broadcast

Jack Benny, famous radio and screen star, Mary Livingstone, Dennis Day, Phil Harris, Don Wilson and all of the cast including Rochester and probably Leona, will be in Palm Springs Sunday.

Benny's regular broadcast will be staged at the Plaza theater here for military personnel stationed in and around the village. Benny will put on two shows for the soldiers — the first which will be broadcast from 4 to 4:30 p.m. and the second immediately after for the soldiers who couldn't get into the first show.

And then, shortly after the two Benny shows, Benny's latest picture, "Geo. Washington Slept Here" will open at the Plaza theater for a run of several days. Benny may stay to see it.

MYSTERY TO HIM

Lt. Wilson testified during the course of the hearing that he did not know how the crash had occurred.

He said he was preparing to land at Palm Springs airport when there was a sudden jar, sending his plane lurching upward. He had crossed the liner's path some minutes earlier, rocking his wing, in a pre-arranged salute, to his friend, L. F. Report, of Canton, Ohio, the airliner's co-pilot. He testified he thought the other plane well to the north of him.

Observance Of Holiday Is General

Village Takes Day Off to Give Thanks In Traditional Style

Palm Springs celebrated Thanksgiving Day in traditional style yesterday with appropriate church services in the morning and with Thanksgiving dinners, many of which featured family reunions.

Many local families had as their guests for the day soldiers from the many posts in and around Palm Springs who were far from their own home family tables on the holiday.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Special services marked the day in all of the local churches. At the Community church, services were held at 10 a.m. with the Rev. John R. Macartney in charge.

The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth officiated at services at 10 a.m. in the new Episcopal church of St. Paul's-in-the-Desert. Father Raley conducted a Thanksgiving Mass at Our Lady of Solitude Catholic church at 9 a.m. Special services were held at the Christian Science church.

MANY DINE OUT

Hotels, restaurants and cafes, which had made elaborate plans to entertain villagers, guests and tourists over the holiday reported a whole-hearted response to the spirit of the day.

But, in the meantime, because there is a war on, there were many who found Thanksgiving Day just another day of work. At army posts here work had to go on but even there, there was a recognition of the day at the messes and working schedules.

The bundles were packed with warm clothing and given by the school children of the village in a three-day drive under the guidance of Miss Katherine Finch, desert district school superintendent.

It was confined to the two schools mentioned because containers sent by the Children's Aid Federation were insufficient to cover all schools.

Appears In Court Twice In One Day; No Longer With Us

It took two policemen to handle

Charles C. Lichtenberger, 50, last week — but not at the same time.

Lichtenberger was arrested on Nov. 18 by Officer Bill Lux on an intoxication charge and on Nov. 19, appeared before Judge Guy Pinney in city court and paid a $25 fine.

Four hours later, Officer O. L. Johnson arrested him on an intoxication charge and again he went before Judge Pinney, twice in the same day.

The second time Judge Pinney imposed a 30-day jail sentence

but suspended it on condition

Lichtenberger leave town.

Army Officer and Family Move Here

Lt. and Mrs. Ray C. Suttle are among the new comers to Palm Springs. They have taken a guest house at 598 Indian Trail. Lieutenant Suttle will be an armored division now stationed near Rice.

Mrs. Suttle will arrive Sunday from Pasadena where she has been visiting.

David O. Selznick Palm Springs Guest

David O. Selznick of movie producer and director fame and his family are among the prominent visitors in Palm Springs this week-end. They also are guests at the Colonial House.

REQUIEM MASS MONDAY

A Rosary will be said Sunday at 8 p.m. at Wiefels & Sons Mortuary in Banning, in charge of funeral arrangements.

High Requiem Mass will be said Monday at 11 a.m. at Our Lady of Solitude church with his Excellency Bishop Charles Buddy of San Diego delivering the sermon.

Burial will be in Palm Springs cemetery.

Jess Burnett Leaves For Naval Training

Jess Burnett, 21, of Palm Springs, was one of 35 recruits for the U. S. Navy who appeared at the naval recruiting station this week in San Bernardino and was assigned to duty with the fleet.

The men were sent from San Bernardino to San Diego for preliminary training.

Expert On Salvage Returns To Village After Busy Summer

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Illick of 301 Camino Descanso, returned to Palm Springs at midnight Sunday after a swing around the nation which took them east over the northern route, down into Alabama and thence west through the South.

On the tour, Mr. Illick devoted his time to studying methods of scrap salvage and introduced many new innovations in the working of foundry dumps and in salvaging lead and steel from the grounds of shooting ranges.

The Illicks left Palm Springs on July 14 on the national scrap drive. Mr. Illick is a member of the local salvage committee and his trip was as War Production Board aide in charge of surveying foundry dumps in an effort to reclaim additional scrap.

He spent some time in Vandalia, Ohio, where he perfected a device to reclaim tons of lead from a shooting range and explored foundry dumps.

The waste he discovered appalled him and it was through his efforts that much of this waste is now going into tanks and guns and airplanes.

The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth officiated at services at 10 a.m. in the new Episcopal church of St. Paul's-in-the-Desert. Father Raley conducted a Thanksgiving Mass at Our Lady of Solitude Catholic church at 9 a.m. Special services were held at the Christian Science church.

Last Turkey Shoot Of Season Slated Sunday Afternoon

Because gasoline rationing does not go into effect until Dec. 1, allowing one more week-end, the Coachella Valley Rifle club will stage one more shoot this fall. M. E. "Bert" Cameron, president, announced Tuesday.

The shoot will be held at the Police Pistol range, just beyond the city gates northwest of town on Highway 111.

A sign, directing those who wish to participate in this last event of the season, will be placed by the roadside, it was announced.

Originally it had been intended to hold the final shoot on Nov. 22 as that was the day rationing had been scheduled to go into effect but with the extension of time, it was decided to get in more chance at the prizes, which are turkeys.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heafey and lovely daughter, Mary, of Oak-land, have been guests at The Desert Inn for quite sometime, but this week-end they were joined by still another member of their family, John Heafey, Jr. who leaves the first of the week to join the army. Mary and John both graduated from the University of California, where Mary was a Delta Gamma and John a Delta Tau Delta.

INDIA'S CONGRESS

"Congress" in India is not, as in the United States, the title of a legislative body. It is a political party—the largest and best organized in India, though its membership in 1941 was only a million and a half, or 1 in 259 of the total population. It was founded in 1885, as the "Indian National Congress," largely thru an English member of the Indian Civil service, A. O. Hume, at the suggestion of the Viceroy, Lord Dufferin.

Exciting Contests Feature of Week At The Field Club

Many fast baseball games and the first in a proposed series of touch football games, featured the week at the Field Club, recreation Director Dick Taylor announced this week.

Results of last week's play:

Thursday, Nov. 19—Troop F 107 Cavalry—7, Troop B 107 Cavalry—2.

Friday, Nov. 20—80th Engineers—9, 107th Cavalry—5.

Wednesday, Nov. 25—64th Medical Corps—8, 80th Engineers—5

The first football game under the lights was played Friday night between the Ferrying Command and the 203rd Quarter Master Corps. The Quarter Master Corps boys are leading the league at Camp Young while the Ferrying Command team was playing their first game. Final score, 203rd 13, Ferrying Command 0.

The touch football league should get under way this coming week. The Torney Hospital team will mix with the Ferrying Command during the week and it looks as though the Ferrying Command boys may get revenge for the several defeats their softball team suffered at the hands of the Hospital.

The schedule in softball is indefinite as is the football schedule, so watch for the lights at the Field Club.

"DEAR MOM"

By Cpl. Max L. Cox

The chaplain says to us, "Soldiers, write to mother." He reminds us that mother is our best friend, that we owe her an incalculable debt of gratitude, that the least we can do is to let her hear from us as often as possible—and, in short, the guy who doesn't write to mother is a heel and an ingrate.

With all of which we agree heartily, but . . .

You know the jerk who begins: "Dear Ma, There is a cemetery right behind our bar-rack. I wish they would take it away . . ." or:

"Dear Mom,

Just got back from maneuvers. Had our first breakfast in a mess hall—with plates, cups, silverware, etc. Our company wag, noting these luxuries, exclaimed, "One more taste of civilization an'—bang! Yer deadier 'n hell!" What a sense of humor! We laughed ourselves sick . . ."

I wonder if Mom would grasp the humor of the situation.

Then there is the martyr who feels he must unburden his woes on someone and Junior, who, prior to his induction, was wont to rise when he darned pleased, resents being told to "get the hell up" at 5:30 a. m. So what does he do but write to Mamma that he is continually herded against his will and, in general, leads the life of a prisoner.

There is an old army proverb which says that you aren't a good soldier unless you gripe about something, but there might well be a parallel to this saying, "you are not a good soldier if you air your gripes to mother."

So don't feel sorry for the long-suffering, self-sacrificing "boy in the service." Egad, no! Feel sorry for mothers.

October 27, 1942

The unhappy alliance between war and disease is particularly powerful in the case of tuberculosis. Tuberculosis has increased in every past war. The disease is increasing alarmingly in many warring European and Asiatic countries.

In the United States tuberculosis is now at the lowest rate in our history. But, to hold the disease in check during wartime will demand the greatest effort possible on the part of the people, the medical profession, the tuberculosis associations and the official health departments. Cooperation of all people in the fight against tuberculosis is imperative.

The tuberculosis associations are well under way in their intensified and expanded wartime campaign. I have full confidence that the American people will generously add the purchase of Christmas Seals, the main support of the National Tuberculosis Association and its seventeen hundred affiliated associations, to their many other wartime activities.

The Christmas Seal Sale is the sole support of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1700 affiliated associations throughout the United States, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

Ninety-five per cent of the income from the Seal Sale remains in the state in which it is raised. Five per cent goes to the National Association.

"This year our local associations are striving for a larger goal than they made last year due to the increased work needed in California," said Mrs. Gottbehuet.

"Gypsy" Bill Banks, 50, Negro, who conducted a shoe-shining business on Indian avenue, was out of town this week. Chances are he will be absent from Palm Springs until at least November 23, 1943.

Banks was arrested by Chief of Police Lyle J. Sanard at 10 p.m. Saturday night on a charge of drunkenness and was haled before Judge Guy Pinney in city court Monday at which time a county road camp sentence of 60 days was imposed.

The sentence was suspended on condition Banks leave Palm Springs and stay away for one year.

Hospital Workers Seek Additional Gasoline Rations

Approximately 65 employees at the Torney General Hospital who live at Banning and Beaumont or other points equally distant, were this week awaiting decision on their request for additional gasoline allotments to enable them to drive to and from their work.

They are employed either on construction jobs or at the hospital and of necessity, live outside of Palm Springs.

Fred Abst and Ruby Grimes of Banning and Harry Warren of Beaumont were named to an executive committee to prepare the workers' case. Lt. Northrop of the hospital staff is serving as an advisor to the group.

Their application has been filed with the rationing board.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ryan, of Villa Nova, Penn., drove in the front gate of The Desert Inn one day last week. They were just going to look the place over, but liked it so well that they decided to stay for a while.

Fireman Phil Kasper Now Fireman For U.S., Stationed At Ferrying Command

Fireman Phil Kasper is still a fireman.

But Uncle Sam is signing his pay check now, not the city of Palm Springs.

Kasper was sworn into the United States army last week and is now stationed at the Ferrying Command where he is assistant chief of the post's fire department.

Chief of the department is at Long Beach, Ferrying Command headquarters, so that puts Kasper in full charge of the fire fighting crews at the local base.

A five-man fire department is at the disposal of Kasper.

"And they're real firemen, too," he said.

A new red truck has been received at the post, replacing the truck which has been there and another is expected.

The post fire department is being enlarged to meet the rapid growth there.

Kasper passed his physical tests recently and also a course in special fire prevention and suppression adapted to the needs of the Command.

A forum-institute meeting will be held December 7 featuring two speakers, Miss Marjorie Miller and Dr. Cass Arthur Reed. This will close the series.

Prominent Artist, Now With U. S. Navy, Vacationing Here

A popular mother and daughter combination at The Desert Inn this past week has been Mrs. Guy D. Engle and her attractive daughter, Mrs. Graham P. Bright, of Pittsburgh, Penn., and Coronado, California.

Mrs. Bright as Kay Engle was well known in Pittsburgh as a promising young artist. When her husband, Lt. Graham Bright (class of '35 at the United States Naval Academy), was killed at Guam, December 8th, she wanted to feel she was doing her part in this war. Art being the only thing she knew well, she went to the U. S. Naval Station in San Diego and offered her services, if there were anything in that line to be done.

Mrs. Bright now has a position as a lithographer at the Naval Air Station, designing insignias, reading blueprints and drafting. She says she loves her work, even if she does have to get up every morning at five to get to work by seven.

Even though Kay came to The Desert Inn for a rest, she has been very active in all of the desert sports. Swimming, badminton and horseback riding kept her busy.

Heaves Stove at Intruder, House Is Now Total Loss

When an intruder entered the home of Janie Peace, Negress, on the Reservation shortly after midnight last Saturday morning, she seized the first weapon which was handy, with which to defend herself.

But it was a poor choice. For while she saved herself, she lost the house.

CHOICE NOT SO GOOD

The weapon she chose was a kerosene stove and in heaving it at the intruder, she really started something.

In transit through the air the bottom came out of the stove, scattering flaming kerosene all over the place.

When the fire department arrived at the scene shortly thereafter, the frame and stucco house was that proverbial "sea of flames."

THE SCAMP DECAMPS

Chief Bill Loenesio and his crew did valiant work but had difficulty in confining the oil-fed flames to the Peace home.

The intruder, incidentally, got away.

Miss Peace suffered bruises in the scramble to escape from the flames but was not burned.

Shirley Temple and Parents Again Here

Back at their cottage, known as the "Shirley Temple Cottage" on the Desert Inn grounds are Mr. and Mrs. George Temple and the very much grown up lovely little lady Shirley.

As always very sweet and gracious about the many demands made upon her time, she was busy with autographs, posing for pictures with the numerous service men, and at the Saturday evening dinner dance, was the belle of the ball.

U. P. Agent Leaves New 1943 Calendars On Visit to Village

Ralph L. Tuttle, passenger and freight traffic agent stationed at Riverside, was in Palm Springs Tuesday of this week, on a business visit.

While here he distributed new 1943 calendars for the railroad, declaring he was out early with next year's dates to "beat the Thursday's gasoline rationing deadline."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Bayer are week ending at The Desert Inn. Mr. Bayer is secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Desert As It Was 20,000 Years Ago Topic of Lecture

First lecture of the season by Sam L. Hinton, director of the Desert Museum, presented last Friday night in one of the classrooms at the Frances S. Stevens school, attracted a small but highly interested and entertained audience.

Mr. Hinton spoke on the desert as it was 20,000 years ago and painted a vivid verbal picture of this area long, long ago.

ALONG EXHIBIT LINES

The lecture tied in with the first exhibit at the Museum, in the Welwood Murray Memorial Library building which was opened recently and is devoted to prehistoric animals of the desert.

The California Institute of Technology has aided the exhibit with a loan of fossils taken from the La Brea pits in Los Angeles and drawings of these animals as they looked in real life enhance the display.

SECOND FIELD TRIP

Second field trip conducted by Mr. Hinton, under the auspices of the Museum, will be held tomorrow when the Skyline trail will be traversed.

The trip will cover about four miles along a good trail and a thorough study of the entire territory covered will be made—rocks, vegetation, animal life—with ample explanation of all things noted. The tour will leave the Frances S. Stevens school at 9 a. m.

Woman Is Slightly Burned As Flames Damage Clothing

Mrs. Risette Reinhardt was slightly burned about the right arm and much of her clothing was scorched or smoked-damaged when flames swept her room in a house on East Andreas road.

Mrs. Reinhardt told Fire Chief Bill Loenesio after the local department had subdued the fire at 9:46 a. m. last Saturday, that a cord on the robe she was wearing had evidently caught fire while she was warming herself before an open fire.

She failed to notice it when she placed the robe near other clothing until the smouldering cord burst into flames.

The department confined the blaze to the one room and the loss was nominal.

Miss Evelyn Hanney, of the San Francisco Chonicle, is spending a few days at The Desert Inn to gather material for a series of articles she plans on writing about Palm Springs.

WAR SERVICE COMES FIRST!

Don't travel unless you must... War service must come first... Ask yourself, before you travel: Is this trip necessary?

These, briefly, are admonitions and warnings of our Government, for all transportation is now vitally needed to carry our Armed Forces, workers in war plants and other essential travelers.

In the past, Americans took extra trips over the Holidays, causing an above-normal volume of travel.

But these are not normal times. Today transportation is faced with a serious shortage of equipment. Trained personnel has been depleted by the need for fighting men. Lower operating speed has become necessary in order to save rubber. Now gasoline rationing will make

White Slips Will Not Show License Fee for 1944

When motor vehicle owners of Palm Springs receive their registration cards (white slips) from the Department of Motor Vehicles for 1943 the amount of the motor vehicle license fee due for the following year will not be shown on the card as in former years.

Due to the conditions incidental to the gasoline and tire rationing programs, the Department finds it impossible to estimate the probable market value of motor vehicles for a period so far in advance.

Acting Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Thomas V. Maloney, announces the market value of the cars, upon which the fee is based, will be estimated at a later date, probably some time next Fall when more is known concerning the availability of tire replacements. Vehicle owners will then be notified of the amounts they will be required to pay either through publicity channels or by postcard.

Maloney said the market value of any individual car next year probably would depend upon the condition of its tires and the chances for securing new tires or replacements.

Desert Inn Dance Attracts Another Delightful Throng

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Howard Hart Jr. are honeymooning at the Desert Inn after a fashionable wedding Saturday afternoon November 21st at the All Saints Episcopal church in Beverly Hills.

The church where the two families and about three hundred guests gathered for the ceremony was beautifully decorated with white gardenias. Dean William Fleetwood officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with lace trim, the lace carried out in a mantilla head drape. Her bouquet was of white orchids. Her only attendant, Miss Mary Boylan, was clad in a dress of powder blue velvet with a bow effect hat. She carried a bouquet of delphiniums, boccardia, and white orchids. Mr. Neil Lehr served Mr. Hart as best man. The reception following the ceremony was held at the Terrace Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Luncheon At Doll House for Army Wives

The Doll House was chosen as the setting for a gay luncheon party Tuesday attended by thirty wives of officers of the 50th Armored Infantry. Chairman of the affair, which marked the first of a series of luncheons to be given by this group, was Mrs. Drost, wife of Lt. Col. Drost.

What with good food, a gay Mexican atmosphere and Felix and his orchestra, the party was a great success by all participants.

Chairman of the next luncheon to take place in December is Mrs. Donald Kammerling, wife of Captain Kammerling.

Palm Springs Great Place for Re-Unions

Palm Springs is a great place to meet old friends.

This week H. W. McLeod, of Los Angeles, and his brother, G. B. McLeod, of San Francisco (both with the Hammond Lumber Company for many years) met at the Desert Inn for a visit.

While here they found old friends of long standing in Mr. and Mrs. Natt McDougall, of Portland, Oregon.

It sounded like a page out of Montana history to hear Mr. G. B. McLeod and Mrs. McDougall talk about the good old days at Missoula, Montana, where they both had business interests many years ago.

A Great Job Well Done

TOO often, people who deserve them do not get flowers until it's too late to enjoy them. But the dozens of volunteers who undertook to sign up the hundreds of Village motorists for their gasoline rationing coupon books and the gasoline panel of the local war price and rationing board who supervised the work, deserve their flowers now.

Hundreds of motorists, some still bewildered despite the reams of publicity on procedure, passed through the auditorium of the Frances S. Stevens school on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week and despite the fact that it was something new for all hands concerned, registrants and registrars, there was scarcely a hitch. The program ran smoothly and efficiently. It was a much better performance than the occasion of sugar rationing although it was more complicated.

The volunteer registrars who gave up their time for 12 hours a day for three days did a thorough job. The hundreds of motorists who filed before them, likewise, did an excellent job. William Lippman, head of the gasoline panel, who planned the strategy of the registration here, and who clung to the long distance telephone many long wearisome periods to see that all of the necessary material to make the program run smoothly reached here on time, also worked long hours without further reward than the thanks of the rationing board heads and the people.

It was a great job, well done and for that, the volunteers, the board members and the motorists deserve verbal flowers.

Trained Leadership Imperative

What is done by our government right now with our boys and girls of teen age is going to have more effect on our future than most of us realize.

It is predicted that we face a long war, and then at least as long again to get settled down in our new position of world responsibility. In the war period, we will either be wise or foolish in what we offer to our grown-up children.

This is a war of new weapons based on science, on physics, chemistry, engineering, mathematics, etc. To build machines requires thousands of experts and research workers, and to operate them requires tens of thousands of highly skilled and trained men. We can only discover and train those who can do this job through using our schools, colleges and universities to sift out those who have the willingness, aptitudes and brains to do these jobs well.

The Germans and the Japanese are very terrible opponents because they have selected and trained many thousands of their youth in every field related to war and are still doing so. Great Britain learned in the last war that they must not let those who should be trained in laboratories or libraries be wasted. In every million babies born, it is said there is but one great physicist, and yet this war is going to be won by applying physics to the procedures of war.

A country like ours can succeed only if it follows trained leaders. We have the experience and the places to train them in every state. Certainly with military policy on a basis that recognizes education also, we can sort out and train our boys and girls for the fateful jobs they must meet.

End of the Beginning

It's still a long, hard road to Berlin and Tokyo, but we are on our way—on the first lap of the journey. That was what that master of words, Winston Churchill, meant when, in commenting on the lightning drive of United States troops into French Morocco and Algeria, he said that this is not the beginning of the end, but rather, the end of the beginning.

For the first time, the United Nations are on the offensive, driving ahead, instead of holding. For the first time, we are setting the time table. For the first time we seem to have gotten there first, with the mostus men. And for the first time, Hitler has reason to know that the Yanks are actually coming, threatening to engulf him in disaster, just as the Kaiser suffered defeat and disaster back in 1918.

This, then, is the end of the beginning. We have just begun to fight, but it is a good beginning, conducted with such deadly precision and brilliant execution that free people, throughout the world, have been given new heart and courage for the long, bitter battle ahead.

Tourists From The Argentine

A peace-time aftermath of the building of the great inter-continental highway, which will connect Alaska and the Argentine Republic is an unbroken link 14,800 miles long, will be a speedy resurgence of the California tourist trade to a size and prosperity never approached in the best of past years.

Under forced construction now, as a war measure, are the hitherto "missing links": the Alaska-U. S. Highway, far advanced; the Pan American highway in southern Mexico, between Oaxaca and the Guatemalan border; a pioneer highway through Central America; the linking of Panama and Colombia by ferry, to skirt the jungles south of the Panama Canal.

All of the projects will be open to Army traffic before the end of 1943, and will immensely strengthen military cooperation of North, Central and South America throughout the war. But when the war is done, the great highway will remain to invite and serve visitors from both continents. "Our career as an international host has hardly begun," declared Edmond A. Rieder, veteran hotel man and manager of the Palace in San Francisco, in a talk to travel agency executives last week.

"In time to come California will no longer look mainly to the East for custom. We will welcome as many visitors from Chile, Paraguay and Argentina as from Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Alabama."

Unquestionably California, with a sunny climate home-lie to South Americans, and with Spanish names, missions and traditions, will be a major U. S. attraction for visitors from the many lands south of the border. Our hospitality will serve greatly in promoting and cementing the growing spirit of cordial good-will among all the neighbor nations of the Western Hemisphere.

The Weaker Sex?

Phoebe Ward, a California woman in charge of induction and placement counseling in war work at San Diego, has arrived at a precise mathematical estimate of the relative proficiency of men and women in the innumerable tasks in war factories.

Ten women, she says, are equal to 15 men. She qualifies her estimate a little, but not much: Men are, of course, stronger and so better on heavy work, but women clearly excel them in work requiring manual dexterity, detailed operations and patience with small monotonous jobs.

Rudyard Kipling, who never risked precise mathematical estimates of things, but stuck to the safer, vague medium of poetry, ventured a similar opinion. He included the guys and gals of the jungle animal world, tigers and bears and such, with guys and gals of the human race in comparing abilities to handle the challenge and duties and dangers of existence, when he wrote that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male."

Perhaps, in light of latest developments the ancient question on the relative merits of the sexes should be restated—in strict neutrality and fairness to all concerned—somewhat as follows:

The weaker sex?—which?

Shop Early for Xmas

Each year, about this time, this newspaper rises to the duty of counseling its readers to get that Christmas shopping chore started early. This year, as always, the early shopper will have first choice of goods, and will enjoy leisurely shopping at uncrowded counters. Then, too—a most important point—soldiers will not be disappointed by the hundreds on Christmas Day through failure of their well-meaning home folks to buy soldier gifts in time for mailing deadlines.

This year, to Shop Early, we might add—Shop often and Shop at Home!

The transportation crisis already has curtailed customary services for thousands of businesses. To save rubber, stores ask customers to carry with them parcels that are not heavy or unwieldy. By shopping often—on each trip buying only so much as he can take with him—this year's Christmas shopper may do his bit to conserve the rubber reserve.

By the same token of the transportation crisis, the shopper who takes a trip to make his purchases in the big stores of the distant city is sure to come home in sorrow and travail of spirit. Buses, commuter trains and street cars are frequently packed to the limit of standing room even outside of peak traffic hours. The woman who might, a year ago, have clambered aboard a bus lugging a hat box, set of golf clubs and a couple of games for the kiddies, would have a tougher time of it this year with nothing more than her handbag and a half a dozen dessert spoons.

The home town store is the best store, since the home merchant, too, has the best in merchandise to offer. Shop early, shop often—and shop at home!

Jones—How much is that hat?
Clerk—Fifteen dollars, sir.
Jones—Where are the holes?
Clerk—What holes?
Jones—The holes for the ears of the jackass that would pay that much for it.

"I don't know whether I ought to recognize him here in the city or not. Our acquaintance at the seashore was very slight."
"You promised to marry him, didn't you?"
"Yes but that's all."

More Nurses Asked By Army and Navy From County Area

Before December 7 the Army and Navy will need 2000 additional registered nurses from California in the Red Cross first reserve, according to Vice Admiral J. W. Greenslade, commandant of the Twelfth Naval district.

The quota for Riverside and San Bernardino counties is 23, said Miss Louise B. Winger, RN, chairman of the Riverside Nursing Council for War Service, in reply to Admiral Greenslade's appeal.

"There are sufficient qualified registered nurses in the two counties to meet our quota," said Miss Winger. "We are working hard to have inactive nurses take the places of younger general and private-duty nurses in the hospitals."

Nurses who are eligible, it was stated, should contact Miss Mary E. Lewis, secretary of the county committee on Red Cross Nursing service, at 9851 Magnolia avenue (telephone 9380).

Holiday Travel Limitations Will Be Imposed by ODT

There won't be any Christmas holiday trips home for some 12,000 or more federal civilian employees in Southern California if the Office of Defense Transportation has its way.

Joseph B. Eastman, ODT chief in Washington, has requested heads of all federal government agencies in the Southland to join a national employees between December 18 and January 10, where such leave involves travel.

Purpose is to flatten down the holiday travel peak which ordinarily jams railroads, buses and airlines, and speed mail, express and essential war travel.

Eastman likewise asked government agencies to limit, where war effort would not be impaired, the calling of meetings involving travel from December 18 through January 10.

The Army, Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard are cooperating with the carriers by limiting furlough privileges during the same period, Eastman said.

2,500 Seek . . .

(Continued from Page One) study. Since many folks have already been through it, you might try asking some of them about it. However, when asking for added miles of rubber in the form of gas coupons, you must first make sure that you have done all you can in joining ride-sharing setups amongst friends, neighbors, etc. That figures a lot in this matter. You fill this form in, having obtained it when you made your "A" application, or since then at the board office, 482 North Palm Canyon drive. Mail or send it to the board office.

"Having made your application for more mileage, and having made sure that you signed your name to the form which scores of people forgot to do this week, perhaps because in filling in the form they had printed their name twice in spaces calling for names. The name appears three times on this form, being signed right after Item 13.

IS IT AN OMEN?

Somebody said that was a good place for it. Now the board considers the application and the hundreds which have been filed this week have kept the board members in a steady grind, without let-up during long business hours. These local citizens who toil away at his work day in and day out, with evenings thrown in, get no pay for this, not even expense, pin or gas money, but they believe it is a job that needs doing and are sticking to it until it is finished. So if your name is in the basket of "Supplements" be patient. The program is for them to consider it from point of regulations. If found in order and fully signed and clearly put, mileage is either granted or rejected, or your application may be among the "Deferred" which means a spot where something further has to be found out, points cleared up, or rulings obtained.

LOAD TOO HEAVY

The program originally contemplated that all fully completed supplemental applications would be processed and ready for answer by Dec. 1, but the heavy load has made this impossible in light of late receipt of materials and forms, some of which are not yet in hand. The gigantic printing and distribution job has taxed even Uncle Sam. So be patient.

The local board anticipates of course that every motorist will keep his tank filled as he approaches the last day of the month and suggests that you do not wait until Monday night, Nov. 30, for the last fill-up, for you might not get it if everybody did the same thing. So with your tank fairly full and your "A" book in hand, with the license numbers written on each coupon (state name also) you will be fairly well fixed to go into the new era ahead. In acting on your "Supplemental applications" the board will notify you when the answer is ready; then you are to call at the site designated.

LAW PRE-DATES WAR

The state law, under which the authority was organized, was written before the war situation existed, and refers to the needs of 1938 when persons of very low income came from other states to California, and a vast number of unemployed, ill-housed persons became an actual menace to public health and safety, it was shown.

So called "Non-Highway" rations will be obtained on Ration Book "E" (for one gallon) buys 5 gallons and Ration Book "R" for 5 gallons. The forms for application, which must be made in duplicate, as well as the ration books are now on hand and can be had from the Board members on duty in the auditorium of the Francis Stevens school, where the basic registration took place; likewise forms and information about Supplemental Rations can be had at the same place, since the board has found it necessary to separate gasoline or "Mileage" from the other ration activities such as coffee for institutional users, and the other rationed items like sugar, typewriters, bicycles, etc., which work goes on all the time. These items are still handled at the regular board office at 482 No. Palm Canyon drive. The Ration Board here wishes to heartily thank every one of the hard working folks of Palm Springs and vicinity who so generously and effectively helped with the rationing program as registrars, door keepers, clerks, messengers, etc. It was a fine demonstration of the solidarity of Palm Springs area spirit, something which seems to be on the surge.

Housing Authority Is Organized For County By Supervisors Monday

In the hope of remedying the acute housing situation in a number of Riverside county cities including Palm Springs, the board of supervisors at their regular meeting Monday, organized a housing authority.

The board ordered immediate action and named a five-man board with G. Stanley Wilson of Riverside as chairman. The other housing commissioners named and the years of their terms are Vinent Stone of this city, one; T. J. Hamner of Arlington, three; Dr. Charles Lipking of Hemet, four; and A. A. Howell, Riverside, four. Wilson will serve for two years.

Action in forming the housing authority was not unanimous, a three to two vote being recorded. The members of the board were unanimous, however, in opinion that a real housing shortage does exist in this county.

Supervisors Ed Hill and Walter V. Pittman of Riverside objected to the wording of the resolution by which the authority was formed, as not being in accordance with facts. Both men expressed the opinion that the housing authority was not necessary, as it had been pointed out that, lacking such an authority in this county, the federal government nevertheless would undertake the building of homes where needed.

FERRYING COMMAND NEWS NOTES

Activities of the Ferrying Command Detachment at the Palm Springs Airport

By S. Sgt. John R. Saari

With a very unpredictable football season drawing to a close on the coast and over the entire country, the local gridironers are beginning to respond to the challenge put out by the Ferry Command. In the "Touch Tackle League" being organized in Palm Springs, two teams already met on the gridiron. Last week the Ferry Command and the 203rd Quartermaster Corps of Camp Young played a fast moving practice game on a newly lighted field Club playing field. The 03rd Quartermaster, the undisciplined challengers from the desert area, who have played numerous games in the past, defeated the Ferry Command by a margin of 12 to 0. The field lights were donated by Mr. Johnny Woods, proprietor of the Golf Driving Range at the corner of South Indian Avenue and Ramon Road, and were installed by Corporal G. B. Givler and E. J. Kann.

Along with the expansion of the post, its personnel and activities, the Engineering Department has found itself with a greatly increased force and subsequently, an increase in duties.

Under the direction of Lieut. Edwin T. Haines, Engineering Officer, this department has had a step-up in efficiency. With this and additional equipment, including an Engineering Building which is now under construction, the department is setting a fast pace for other departments of the field.

Included in the engineering personnel are a dozen or so of the original detachment. These experienced men are now proving themselves capable assistants to Lieut. Haines in the direction and training of the newer men. Any further increase in flying activities here will find the engineering department ready to efficiently handle the additional duties.

Private Ernest E. Meadows and Mary Alberta Hobbs were united in marriage at Yuma, Arizona Nov. 20th, 1942. The couple spent their honeymoon in Bakersfield.

First Lieut. Humphrey M. Blaisdell reported to this headquarters on November 20th from at her home.

We'll Keep The Japs Away But Home Folks Will Have to Help Says Soldier

Sgt. Joseph Todero, known to scores of friends here and in Cathedral City as Joe Todd, in a letter received this week by Bill Hillery of Cathedral City, described conditions "somewhere in the Pacific war zone" in an interesting way and expressed the appreciation of the soldier boys for what the people "back home" are doing and what they will do.

It takes letters from home three weeks or longer to reach him but he said he had had copies of The Desert Sun in quicker time than that and said ". . . I read every line in it to get the news from the home folks. I specially read your column, Bill, as it gives me the news of my neighbors." (Mr. Hillery writes a column of Cathedral City news each week in The Desert Sun.)

LONG IN FIELD

Sgt. Todd said his outfit had been in the field for some time and that he hadn't seen camp but once in three weeks.

"We have killed pythons, some of them 10 and 11 feet long and lots of death adders which make our little side-winders look silly. And talk about ants and 'skeeters!' he writes.

"I have heard of your part in the post (aircraft warning service) and you are doing a nice job. Some people seem to think that air watch is silly and not needed. But so did the big shots at Pearl Harbor.

NO UNDER-ESTIMATING

"We don't under estimate the Japs. We hear too much about him. So keep up the good work. We hope to keep the Japs away from you and we will do more than our bit to that end. At the same time we are glad you people at home realize that anything can happen. The war isn't over yet. We know we will win and that it is only a matter of time. But we need your co-operation and I see we are getting it.

"The Japs are the worst enemy we have to fight. They refuse to be taken prisoner. Helping a wounded Jap is practically suicide," he wrote.

"Say hello to all of the Desert lads for me and tell them I'll be back when this is over. All of me."

Margaret

Margaret turned off the humungous vacuum cleaner, and straightened the slipcovers of the armchair and the daybed that she had pushed up to go over the rug. Then she stood quite still in the doorway and looked at the small bedroom with its southern exposure. It was as neat and impersonal as a pin. It might never have been lived in. The door stood open on the clean, bare closet. There was not a pennant, not a team picture, not even so much as an old Arithmetic book left to show whose room it had once been.

Margaret stared at the walls, the furniture, and deeply, slowly, she realized that no matter what lodgers with their own trinkets and pictures might occupy it, she would always see it the old way. It was the old way that she saw it now. A pair of hard-worn gray pants lay on the floor where they had been dropped. Three baseball bats were stacked with a fishing rod in the corner. A battered red cap with a letter on it lay on the bed. And through the bed, as though it were transparent, Margaret saw another bed, smaller, and with high slatted sides.

She put the vacuum cleaner away and went down to her desk in the sitting-room. She took the fifteen dollars rent that the new lodger had paid that morning in advance for the room, and added to it, from her purse, three dollars and seventy-five cents more.

Then she drew out a sheet of paper and began to write on it, slowly, gravely.

"To buy a bond to help train a young man to replace Don, Jr., killed on June 6th in the Battle of Midway."

(Letter from an actual communication in the files of the Treasury Department.)

TORNEY GENERAL HOSPITAL EVENTS

News of the Enlisted Men of the Medical and Quartermaster Detachments at Torney Army General Hospital, Palm Springs

By Sergeant (T4) Russel H. Genich

Technician 4th grade Jack Park appeared on a nation-wide broadcast emanating from N.B.C.'s Hollywood studio on Tuesday evening, November 17th, 1942. On this program, service men are given an opportunity to speak to the folks at home by telephone, while the "mike" picks up the conversation. After the broadcast Sergeant Park, a sailor and a marine were guests of vocalist Ginny Simms and her mother to dinner at a popular Hollywood restaurant. An hour at the famed Brown Derby rounded out the evening. Sergeant Park came off with many autographs of film-dom's big-wigs.

Members of the hospital enlisted personnel present at the U. S. O. Hospitality House on Monday evening, November 23rd, were pleasantly surprised by a visit from Hollywood's Shirley Temple. The movie star conversed and danced with many of the service men present, and brought everyone under the spell of a pleasing personality.

The patients and personnel of the Hospital were entertained by an orchestra composed of men of the 40th Engineers on Thursday afternoon, November 26.

P. S. H. S. Football Squad Defeated By Coachella Gridders

By HERB LIENAU

For the third time this season, the Palm Springs Indians tasted defeat. This time when the Arabs from Coachella beat them 25-13. When the gun ended the game the Arabs had scored four touchdowns to two by the Indians, but this score does not tell the whole story of this hard-fought game. Although outweighed considerably, the Indians put up a stiff battle.

Starting the game with a bang, Coachella scored in the first quarter. Banging through the line and around the ends, Coachella scored when Finn, Arab back, went over from the six-yard line.

SCORE IN SECOND

The Arabs scored again in the second frame when Montoya broke away from a host of tacklers and went over, standing up. The try for conversion was good, and the first half ended with Arabs leading 13-0.

Coming back in the third quarter, the Indians suddenly showed their stuff. Opening up with passes, they marched down the field and scored on a beautiful pass from Dick Mendoza to Joe Sandeffer, Indian back. Making a beautiful catch, Sandeffer pivoted and started down the field. Bill Gilbert, Indian end, immediately put a beautiful block on the only Arab near enough to stop Sandeffer, who scored standing up. Sandeffer kicked the ball straight through the uprights, and the Indians were back in the game with the score 13-7 in favor of Coachella.

SCORE IN FOURTH

Taking advantage of their superior weight and power, the Arabs scored again in the third and fourth quarters. Finn and Montoya scored the two touch-downs for Coachella.

Replacing the starting team, the Indians' second team scored the final touch-down late in the fourth quarter. The Indians tallied when Turner tossed a pass to Ward for the final score.

SHOW SOME FIGHT

In the first half the Indians showed little fight and poor blocking and tackling. Coming back on the field in the second half, the Indians looked like a new team. Opening up with passes from the accurate arm of Dick Mendoza, the Indians began to move. Despite their size, the Indians proved to be a tough team to their larger opponents when they started to move. Seeing that the Arabs were weak on their passing defense, Herb Lienau, Indian fullback, called pass after pass, which riddled the Coachella defense.

The Indians will meet the Arabs again on Thanksgiving day on the Coachella high school field. The game will start at 3:00 p.m. The Indians are determined to repay the Arabs in full for their defeat last Friday.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GET EXTRA DAY OF REST

School children of Palm Springs and Cathedral City today were enjoying an extra day of vacation.

Schools were dismissed yesterday because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday and will return to their class work next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Henderson and their attractive daughter, Mrs. Virginia Cole, all of Beverly Hills, are vacationing at The Desert Inn for a few days. Virginia has completed her nurses aide training and is doing volunteer nursing in a Los Angeles hospital and Red Cross blood bank.

'PEOPLE HAVE MORE FUN THAN ANYONE'

So Seniors Declare After Annual Ditch Day

By MARTI ROBINSON

"Great Heavens, what are they—fugitives from a reform school?" "Have you any information concerning a big accident that happened up the road?" "Hey fellows, go back and get my hat—I dropped it in the lake!" "Hi Mister, have a sandwich?" —and so on through the day and a greater part of the evening.

Well, to explain it all frankly, the above statements were just some of the many typical exclamations heard on the annual Senior "Ditch Day" which occurred last Monday, November 25.

MEETING FIXED

To begin with, it was decided that the Senior Class should meet in front of Patterson's Drug Store at 8:15 a.m.

Starting the game with a bang, Coachella scored in the first quarter. Banging through the line and around the ends, Coachella scored when Finn, Arab back, went over from the six-yard line.

SCORE IN SECOND

The Arabs scored again in the second frame when Montoya broke away from a host of tacklers and went over, standing up. The try for conversion was good, and the first half ended with Arabs leading 13-0.

WE FEEL BETTER

So, having our tummies filled we felt better and were really able to get into the swing of things — the swing of things meaning snow-ball fights, face washing, etc. In fact, that's exactly the way the largest part of the day was spent," peppering unsuspecting victims with snow-balls" — great sport, that! Then too, along with the snow fights, we chased some innocent little "mud-head" ducks to and fro over the lake. The ducks, however, having heard that it was Senior Ditch Day at P. S. H. S. were ready for anything!

When evening came and we finally decided to, shall we say, pull up stakes and head, indirectly, homeward, we again "slid" down the highway with smiles on our faces and plenty of snow-balls in our cars. Some of these same snow-balls even reached school the next morning.

JUST SNOW BALLS

Jack Hoover was interrupted once during the trip down, when he thought there was an air-raid and he was being bombed. However, after careful investigation, he discovered that it was only Herb Lienau and a carload of, to say the least, very enthusiastic "ditchers" with some excess snow-balls that they happened to throw precisely at the same moment that they passed Hoover's sleek "blitz-bugie!" That was quite a coincidence, wasn't it?

At the foot of the mountains we were all to meet at a given point on Highland and Sierra Way. But though we all arrived in high spirits, there was soon to be a shadow cast on them — there was a terrible accident in which one of our members, "Wild" Bill Gilbert got the worst possible end of it. But don't let it throw you kids, it wasn't really serious. It seems that Bill was stretched out in the middle of the highway and, with the help of a little tomato ketchup dabbed here and there on his learned brow, was made to look strictly "sad apple" with about 99/100% of his head missing. While Al (Funny-boy) Adolph stood frantically wringing his hands and yelling, "Where's a hospital?" people kept coming up in cars and shouting such things as "I he hurt badly!" "I'll get an ambulance" — "Don't touch him, let him lie there," etc. At that point, however, Bill suddenly recovered, so we resumed our journey once more. After it was all over and Bill was asked how he felt, he said, quote — "like a human hot-dog" — unquote as he wiped the ketchup off his head.

ARTHUR BUSHNELL

AN important problem about dances has arisen at high school lately and should be given attention immediately. This editorial concerns that problem.

Lately at the high school quite a number of dances have been held, and each has lacked more than the previous one in entertainment and the turn outs consequently have been dwindling down to a mere handful of students. This problem is mainly due to the lack of planning and organizing of the dances. Most of the dances themselves are well planned, but the scheduling of an old saying that "an army travels on its stomach!" Well, in this case one could safely say that the Senior Class of P. S. H. S. travels somewhere in the vicinity of its abdominal regions also, for we ate three-fourths of the day, and picked our teeth the rest of it. But with only a few pains we rolled into the city limits, smug, happy, only a little tired and ready to go again tomorrow — that is, to school!

All in all, it was a wonderful trip and no one of us who went will ever forget a minute of it. We will have plenty of great pictures to help us remember it in detail too. Cameraman Dick Heise will vouch for that. He almost out-did himself several times while trying to get some tricky shots. Yes sirre Dick, you didn't know the limbs on that tree would break so easily did you? Jeanne Martineau did her share of posing for "shots" too. But all Jeanne would say when she finished "posing" for several snap shots, — all she would say was "What th' gazooze!" Atta girl, Jeanne.

IT'S UNFORGETTABLE

Yes, we will never forget a minute of Senior Ditch Day of 1942 and we surely thank Dr. Oertel and staff for making the trip out of town possible. It was appreciated more than we can say. However, since yesterday, the Senior Class has adopted a new theme song — you guessed it — "We Did It Before, and We'll Do It Again". We're kid, of course (???)

Hammada
By
SAM H. HINTON
Director of the
Palm Springs
Desert Museum

"Hammada" is an Arabic word, and refers to a rocky desert.

The Phainopepla
Phainopepla Nitens

The word Phainopepla comes to us from two very appropriate Greek words: "Phaeinos," to shine, and "Peplos" a robe. The bird of the Shining Robe. In the shadows, his coat is no more than black, but in sunlight, the miracle of iridescence does wonders, showing bright blues and greens in a subtle manner. But, unfortunately, the Phainopepla seems to prefer the shadows whenever the bird student gets close enough to look at him. He may be beautiful, but he is also modest, and it is difficult to get more than a glimpse of him. When asked where the Phainopepla lived, good Dr. Dawson knowingly replied, "On the other side of the bush!"

This bird is about the size of a blackbird, of the same glossy black (in the male), and possessing a large, expressive crest on the top of its head. And when it flies, there are brilliant white patches in the wing, making the Phainopepla unmistakable. The female is of the same size, and has the crest, but her color is gray.

LIKES DRY AREAS

It is to be found throughout southern California, but is most abundant in the dryer parts. In this locality, it is often to be seen around the mesquite thickets, which offer it plenty of hiding places. When you approach such a bush from some distance away, you will probably see two or three Phainopeplas perched at the very top, apparently watching for intruders. But by the time you arrive, their modesty has got the best of them, and they are nowhere to be seen, having either dived into the almost impenetrable interior of the original thicket, or flown swiftly to another one.

There are many nests in this part of the country in the Spring. They are usually more than five feet above the ground, and most often in mesquite thickets. It really isn't much of a nest—merely a loose pile of leaves, twigs, sticks, cobwebs, and anything else the building parents happened to come across. Sometimes, in the process of building, the old birds change their minds about the location. In that event, they move the half-finished nest piecemeal from the old locality to the new, not caring to make the great effort of securing new material. The male does by far the most of the work, even going so far as to drive the female away if she seems to work too hard. The bunches of mistletoe, so common in the desert mesquite, often harbors one of these masculine domiciles.

5,000 PER EGG
The eggs are laid usually in early April. They are very interesting-looking eggs, being pale gray at one end and white at the other, with a slow graduation between. And they are covered with a multitude of very fine speckles, all of an almost uniform size, and of a lavender-gray color; one authority states that there are at least ten thousand of these spots on each egg!

After the eggs are laid, the male seems to realize that his wife is rather useful, and he may allow her to do almost half of the incubating—but no more! Both of these soon-to-be parents are a little nervous and jumpy, not anxious to sit still for any length of time, and they change shifts every hour or so. In fact, the best way to locate active nests is to watch for Phainopeplas and follow them; they will often lead you directly to the place where

More Showers for Field Club Sought To Aid Soldiers

Efforts were being made by the Recreation Committee, in charge of affairs at the Field Club to obtain funds from the government to install showers and other plumbing facilities at the club to accommodate approximately 200 soldiers from desert training camps.

Under a new plan, groups of boys, numbering 150 to 200, are given two-day furloughs from far-out desert camps and brought here for relaxation. They bring their own mess equipment with them and sleep at the Field club. Plumbing facilities are inadequate and steps are being taken to remedy the situation.

Solid-Senders On Twice-a-Week Sched At Rogers Ranch

The hottest cowboy band in the west—that's what Trav Rogers says about a new five-piece Hilly-Billy band which will give forth from the band stand at the popular Rogers' Barn dances each Thursday night and at the regular dances each Saturday night.

Rogers discovered the band at an Arizona radio station and brought them to Palm Springs where they have been christened the Rogers' Ranch wranglers.

"And they are really solid senders in cowboy jive," said Rogers.

Physical Education Class, Volley Ball Registrants Sought

Men interested in forming a physical education class or in formation of a Volley Ball league are urged to register either with the recreation commission at the Chamber of Commerce or at the city hall.

If sufficient number are interested, the commission will take steps to organize a physical education class and organize the league.

Pays $35 as Result Of Excess of Liquor

Joseph E. Robles, arrested at 9:40 p. m. Sunday night by Officers Ray Wilson and O. O. Johnson, for intoxication, was fined $35 when he appeared before Judge Guy Pinney in city court Monday.

An impatient spouse is impatiently waiting to be relieved.

The two, or sometimes three, babies are born exactly two weeks after the laying of the eggs. They are ugly little things, as are most newly hatched birds, of a dark grayish-blue with whitish fuzz. After about nineteen days, the babies leave the nest for the first time, but not for good; they continue to use it as a headquarters for a few days until they are sure that they hold their own in the great world. At this time, they very closely resemble their mothers: This is true in almost all birds in which the sexes are different.

FEAST ON INSECTS

Phainopeplas belong to the great group of birds known as fly-catchers, and they do eat a great many insects, catching them on the wing. However, the bulk of their food is vegetable matter, and here on the desert, the principle article of diet is the mistletoe berry. In fact, there is a close relationship between this bird and the mistletoe; neither of them could well exist without the other! The mistletoe serves the Phainopepla as food, and the Phainopepla repays this service by being the chief distributor of the mistletoe. This is one of those probably common relationships between two utterly unlike forms of life; there are probably a great many more of these mutual dependencies than we have any idea of.

Colonial House Winter Dance Season Starts With Highly Colorful Success

The Colonial House started off its winter Dance and Floor Show Season with an enthusiastic opening before a smart guest list of Palm Springs residents and visitors. From the impressions gained from the old time residents it looked like the winter season was on in full swing.

Ruby and his Violin was received with a real Palm Springs welcome and guests who have known him for a great many years were out in great numbers to give him a real hand shake.

Ruby did not throw his friends down when he stated he had a great personality with him by the name of Miss Connie Barleau and the way she was encored time and time again for the rendition of her songs, proved that he was still the master showman in picking talent and as for Connie, she captivated

Cathedral City

W. R. Hillery

These notes are being written at Monte Nido at Thomas Mountain on Thanksgiving Day. May be our last trip to the big pines until the rubber conditions improve. I wonder if the rather primitive conditions here recalled days long gone by. Anyway last week John J. Jefferies brother of former champion Jim Jeffries called at our office and I told him of the first time I saw him. It was four days after Jim had knocked out Peter Jackson and was on his way in big time fights Jim and his brother Jack were billed to spar exhibitionally at the old Midway on Market street in San Francisco. It was a place for "men only" spelled with capital letters and I got in by crowding through in a group of merchant sailors. A couple of days later I sailed out the Golden Gate on the full rig sailing ship Spartan. Antique thoughts.

Bang. Another age and the question is how to get a reasonable return in rental for your investment here and not be punished for the sins of the gougers elsewhere. I don't find my neighbors upping rent prices but they are confused on many points with no one to give us the answers. Honest people who are made to appear like skunks in the propaganda being put out by "authority." I know as a nation we are going left but it will be far less painful if we have appointees of understanding.

That's column last week hit the nail squarely on the head when he said Cathedral City now has an operating gas station. So we won't have to use our allotment going away from home to get gas. Give all your local business to the station because all of it won't allow the operator to lift the national debt with earnings.

We are exploring the possibility of getting a local bus to operate between this village and Palm Springs. Let's hope.

Sixty people attended the free showing of an educational sound movie at our local school on Tuesday night. It is safe to say capacity will greet the next showing. Thanks are due the Desert School District, Supt. Katherine Finchy and Miss Gaines and her assistant, Miss Brownless. And we were rather proud of our Robert Hillery that he was entrusted with the school equipment and that no hitches occurred in the program. Another cultural treat is in store department and the school milk fund. What is better?

Well, Alex Rich and his family will soon be leaving us. The Rich family came to Cathedral City in 1929 the same year I came here. The family has been the type of reliable citizen that makes a community solid and we will all feel very badly that the "back to the farm" movement has caught them. However the Rich family expect to keep their Cathedral City property and that means we have a string on them and they might be drawn back at a later time.

Sergeant Joe Todero writes us another letter from Down Under. Look for mention elsewhere in this issue of the paper. I shiver when Joe says he and the rest of the boys there are so glad we are keeping up our vigil for enemy planes. They feel we are with them. We are keeping it up but not easily. Frank Harrington who has been so helpful and constant at the post is now ill. We hope he will soon be able to carry on and in the meantime you who have been so loyal, please keep it going and bring in a neighbor as a recruit.

Another activity that is not active in fact it is dead is the scrap metal drive. Will the church group, the Woman's Club or the C of C or just some individual carry the drive through. I can tell you where there are several loads and Slim Larrison has volunteered to haul it into Palm Springs where it will finally get started on its way to help the country. Proceeds go to the fire department.

Card Party to be Given
By Woman's Club

A card party will be sponsored by the Cathedral City Woman's Club on December 2 at Town Hall. The party will start at 2:30.

All visitors in the village and their husbands are invited to attend. A special invitation is extended the families of service men. There will be prizes and refreshments, also games for those who do not play cards. Mrs. Stella Adams will be the hostess.

Village Women Speeding Up Salvage Drive

Active From Boudoir To Kitchen Reports Scrap Chairman

Palm Springs women are doing their part in the war effort in a greater way than ever this week, according to Dr. John P. Macartney, chairman of the local salvage committee.

Discarded silk stockings are beginning to roll into Lykken's department store, local depot for collecting hosiery for the war effort. The stockings with runners in them will be used to make powder bags for the big guns which in turn will put runners in the Jap army.

GREASE THE SKIDS

In the meantime, the women are also turning in hundreds of pounds of used fats, strained from skillets. These fats are being used to make the nitroglycerine that goes into the powder that goes into the silken bags made of discarded silk hose.

"From parlor to kitchen, therefore, the women are doing their bit to axe the Axis," said Dr. Macartney.

The pile of scrap metal is still growing rapidly and each Sunday, volunteer firemen make the rounds, collecting scrap metal which householders have rounded up for the volunteers.

FOR SCRAP ONLY

Metal containers have been set out, one at the postoffice and another before Patterson's drug store, for scrap.

"These painted containers are for scrap only, please do not throw wastepaper or miscellaneous throw-aways in them," said Dr. Macartney.

Disposition of the local scrap metal awaits the completion of the huge smelters at the Henry Kaiser plant in Fontana. When these are ready, scrap from Palm Springs will start on its way to war.

Indians on the reservation who are eager to do their part in winning the war for Uncle Sam, are preparing to round up much scrap which has been located on the reservation.

STATE LAGGING

California is lagging in the collection of scrap metal, Dr. Macartney said. The national average so far is 74 pounds for every man, woman and child in the nation but California's average is only 65.1 pound per capita. Vermont is first with an average of 155.4 pounds per person. Kansas second with 141.8 pounds per capita.

"The need is steadily increasing," the salvage chairman said. "Be not weary in well doing — keep it up. Don't have the blood of an American soldier on your hands because you failed to put the necessary weapons in his hands to defend himself, you and the flag."

This Side of the Sun

(Continued from first page) at the rate of two miles to the gallon, the next half mile, at the rate of 6.2 miles to the gallon, and after a mile and a third, the rate was only 9.2 miles per . . . They found that 25 miles per was the most economical speed. The going then was at the rate of 22.27 miles per. At 20 it was 22.02, at 35, 20.20.67 miles to the gallon. No results were given for 45 and 50. They were probably too patriotic to try. And why should you want to know? . . . But the conclusion is, if that errand is less than a mile, walk. Besides saving gasoline, think of what it will do for your figures.

SCRAP — When Riverside county's unit of the highway patrol completed its scrap drive recently, they had found 478 autos suitable for scrapping—and little else—and they so notified the owners. But any trip on the highway will reveal that they missed a lot . . . If the service station attendant soaks you an extra penny for a quart of oil, you can't squawk. The OPA says they can, to make up for new taxes in oil . . . Because people feared a sugar shortage and started hoarding there WAS a shortage and rationing. The same thing happened to coffee. And now it is reported 50 million pairs of shoes are hoarded away. So footgear may be next. Pity the poor rationing boards, they're certainly being booted around.

INSULTED — When Phil Kasper, fireman, looked over the result of his physical examination for the army, the only thing he didn't like was the phrase: "Suitable for hard work, can endure it." . . . Fire Chief Bill Leonesio is having a tough time finding members for his fire fighting crew. The war is taking them all . . . He may have to hire women fire fighters . . . In a New Jersey town where the entire department is volunteer one, Mrs. Beatrice Kay joined up. She hopes eventually to organize a volunteer fire department of 20 women. Perhaps she's the nation's first firewoman . . . Well, women should enroll to fight fires. They start plenty of them.

ONE BLESSING — Before the panic on tin, 700,000,000 cans of tinned dog food were sold annually in the U. S. That was the second biggest canned food item sold. Then came the ban on tin and the canine cuisine came dehydrated, in paper containers. You added water and two cans of food bloomed where was but one before—and at the same cost . . . Now, I don't know how much you feed your dog, but Oscar, the family canine, went through a can in two days. "Half a can a day," was his doctor's order. With the new dehydrated food, the cost of Oscar's daily diet dropped 50 per cent. And does he lap it up. That may mean nothing, however, as I have always said he had low tastes.

MIND READING — If you could read the mind of William Lippman, head of the gasoline panel of the local rationing board, you'd probably get something like this: "From the number of applications for more gasoline, the world must be made up of incurable optimists. What a lot of peevish people there are going to be!" . . . Speaking of mind readers why is it that people who have nothing to say always choose the moment when your favorite radio program is at its hottest to either dial you or ring your front doorbell, to say it? . . . Did you see that item in the Evening Herald the other night wherein plans for the White House Thanksgiving were detailed and that President WILSON was going to do so and so? Come, come, this is 1942.

ALWAYS FIRST — There are just 24 shopping days left before Christmas . . . They're calling for old magazines for the soldiers. What a chance for dentists to do their patriotic duty! . . . and remember, don't treat that 35-mile-an-hour pledge you signed when you got your A book like you do your New Year's resolutions.

TELEPHONIC — Bill Nash of the telephone company says I missed one when I remarked that the street address of the new Desert Sun office was 359 and the telephone number 3594. He says it's better than that. The '4' on the end of the number merely signifies the ring. That is, if it were a party line the '4' would mean it was the fourth phone on the line. As it is, says Mr. Nash, the Sun's street address is 359 and so is the phone number, insofar as the phone company is concerned. . . But be sure to add the '4' or you won't get us. It's 3594 (and PLEASE make it 3594 this time, operator, not 2594). . . Mr. Nash had something else of interest to Villagers. He said that telephone instruments were scarcer than tires. "Don't drop them and break them. You may not get another," he warned.

Here is the desk where the Declaration of Independence was signed in Independence Hall, Philadelphia. The quill pens are in the glass case on the table over which Sergt. William Hazard of the United States Marine Corps stands guard. Thousands of children annually visit this shrine of American shrines and today are putting the inspiration obtained into the Schools at War program, sponsored by the Treasury Department and the U. S. Office of Education.

BEAUTY AND BRAINS!

With both beauty and brains, lovely Beryl Wallace, curvaceous star of Earl Carroll's Revue, will go a long way, despite gasoline rationing, on 2 tires and 40 miles to the gallon. Beryl is telling Henry Martins, Gilmore Oil Company, that scooter and motorcycle owners will get D books, under gasoline rationing, allowing them 4 gallons a week and a maximum of 40 miles a gallon.

Another Mandate

To the majority of unprejudiced observers, the recent election expressed the opinion of our citizens in no unmistakable manner on some very elemental problems the country faces.

Without going into any partisan political angles, the handwriting on the wall is clear for Republicans and Democrats alike, as well as for any group seeking special privileges or favors at the expense of all the people.

The vote seemed to indicate plainly that above all else we want the war pushed to the limit of our ability with politics eliminated; that the people are tired of labor policies that put a premium on restricted production when increased man-hours are imperative; that the social reformer and business baiter be put on the shelf for the duration.

Gas Company Asks City to Pass Safety Ordinance

Passage of a safety ordinance, that would conserve man power by preventing accidents, has been asked of the city council by the Southern California Gas company.

"From time to time in the past," the letter stated, "serious accidents have been suffered by persons who attempted, or permitted others than gas company employees to turn on gas service at the meter or to reconnect the gas service. In so doing safety precautions, which are required of company employees, were disregarded."

A number of cities have heretofore adopted ordinance relative to turning on of gas service. The proposed ordinance does not prohibit the turning off and on of gas, then being served, for purposes such as repairing house piping or connecting or removing appliances.

Wife of Army Flier Severely Injured In Auto Accident

The wife of a U. S. Army flier was severely injured yesterday afternoon when the car in which she was riding skidded and rolled over several times near the Three Musketeers between Banning and Whitewater. She suffered a fractured skull and other injuries.

They were on their way to Missouri where the injured woman planned to join her husband who is stationed there.

State Traffic Officer Gene Henderson, who investigated the accident, said the car was traveling at a high rate of speed and skidded for a distance of 240 feet before it started to roll over and over.

The driver of the car was Sam Del Signore 23, and the injured woman, Mrs. Billie Vice. She was taken to the Torney General Hospital at Palm Springs.

Signore was cited for reckless driving and ordered to appear before his commanding officer.

A couple of sailors got into a discussion over the kind of animal a heifer was. One sailor claimed that the heifer belonged to the hog family, the other that it was a variety of sheep.

Finally, they called in Boatswain Bill. "Bill, what's a heifer—is it a hog or a sheep?" they asked.

Boatswain Bill bit off a large chew reflectively, then said: "To tell the truth, mates, I dunno much about poultry."

The clothes your son wears, the gun he fights with, the food he eats, the shelter he sleeps in comes from the money you put into War Bonds.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The "Stovepipe," as the 60-millimeter trench mortar is commonly known, is used by our infantry for close-in fighting. It fires a 2.4-pound shell at the rate of about 35 a minute.

The mortar fires its projectile in a U-shaped arc and for this reason may be successfully camouflaged behind an obstruction. It costs about $500. You and your neighbors, joining together, can buy many of these effective weapons for use of our army. Investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday will do the job. BOUND FOR SHANGRI-LA?

Do you ever plan to look for Shangri-La? If so you can get an advanced knowledge of the language right on the University of California campus.

Courses in Chinese, Mongolian, Japanese and minor Oriental tongues are now offered, much of the instruction being by a native faculty transplanted intact from Peiping. Recordings of native speech will be an important part of the course.

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "The despotic tendencies, inherent in mortal mind and always germinating in new forms of tyranny, must be rooted out through the action of the divine Mind." "It would wield the sceptre of a monarch, but it is powerless. The immortal divine Mind takes away all its supposed sovereignty, and saves mortal mind from itself."

DIRE THREAT

Wearing from his many efforts to collect a long overdue bill, a merchant finally wrote his customer, saying: "If you do not pay me what you owe within the next ten days, I plan to tell all of your other creditors that you did pay me!" —Quote.
